

Family Engagement and your Donor Advised Fund

Philanthropy that Grows with your Family

Philanthropy is often a family experience, shaped by shared values, meaningful conversations, and a desire to make a difference together. Families today are thinking not only about the impact of their giving, but about how to engage children and grandchildren in ways that feel authentic and lasting.

At the Community Foundation for MetroWest (CFMW), we partner with families to support this journey, helping them build charitable approaches that reflect what matters most today while preparing the next generation to lead with purpose and confidence.

This same philosophy is embedded in our donor advised fund (DAF) offering. Because every family's goals and dynamics are unique, we partner with you to design customized giving strategies that honor today's charitable priorities while intentionally engaging the next generation to lead tomorrow—creating impact that endures for generations.
